

PTR News, April 2013

2013 Pathways to Result Institute

The Office of Community College Research and Leadership, Pathways Resource Center, Illinois Community College Board and Illinois State Board of Education announce an opportunity for you to apply to be a part of the 2013 Pathways to Results Institute. Scheduled for June 25 and 26, 2013 at the DoubleTree Hotel, Bloomington, IL, the one and a half day workshop will involve participants in the PTR process, working in teams to apply the process to a realistic scenario.

Are you interested in learning to lead partnerships and develop Programs of Study that will make a difference to your students, schools, colleges and communities? Would you like to acquire a way to implement data-based strategies that produce equitable student outcomes?

The Institute provides leaders in high schools, community colleges, universities, EFEs, and businesses an intensive learning experience that is designed to improve P-20 education in Illinois. Participants will work closely with leading practitioners and other partners to gain an in-depth understanding of Pathways to Results, how it can be used and concrete plans to lead local Programs of Study initiatives.

The event will feature a keynote address from Dr. Joye Hardiman, former Executive Director of The Evergreen State College, and inspirational educator, global researcher and gifted storyteller. Dr. Hardiman has over 35 years of experience as an engaged practitioner of Learning Community Excellence and Educational Reform.

Space is limited. Applications and nominations for the PTR Institute are being accepted at this time. Forms are available here.

© Office of Community College Research and Leadership, University of Illinois, 2012