

Pathways to Results News

2013 Pathways to Results Institute

Applications are being accepted for the 2013 Pathways to Results Institute, a day and one half event that will bring together local and state education partnerships from high schools and community colleges, and employers to learn how the Pathways to Results (PTR) process can be applied to Programs of Study to improve student outcomes. Each participant will be part of a virtual team that will walk through the 5 phase PTR process in the Manufacturing, Health Sciences, or Agriculture Programs of Study. These mock scenarios will use materials drawn from past PTR teams and will be led by OCCRL staff and educational professionals that have done the PTR process.

The PTR Institute will be held at the DoubleTree Hotel in Bloomington, IL on Tuesday, June 25 and Wednesday, June 26, 2013.. PTR is a process that is meant to be done as a team. As such, we would like to encourage applicants to attend the PTR Institute with a team (three people or so) that would include a community college partner, an employee partner, or a high school partner. Registration for the event will be covered by your CTE Regional Networks. For full consideration, please apply by Wednesday, May 15.

APPLY HERE

Insights into Equity and Outcomes Series

As we improve Programs of Study and student outcomes in the State of Illinois, the barriers to success for all students should continue to be at the forefront of the work we do. The third issue of Insights into Equity and Outcomes is now available. The focus of this piece is barriers Asian American student face. This brief provides PTR stakeholders with tools that empower transformation, calling attention to the needs of underserved students.

© Office of Community College Research and Leadership, University of Illinois, 2013